

What to expect at your consultation with one of our medicolegal experts

We know that seeing a new clinician can be a little daunting. Our experts understand this. Please remember that our doctors carry out physical examinations of many patients every week in their private and NHS clinics, as well as in their medicolegal practice. They will do all they can to put you at ease.

Follow our checklist below to make sure you're prepared for your consultation:

Before the consultation

- If you have photos of scars, the accident site or post-surgery that you would like the doctor to consider, please email them to info@medicolegal-partners.com ahead of the appointment.
- If you would like to be accompanied by a friend or relative, please ask your solicitor to give us permission for this in writing in advance.
- Plan your journey - full details about consulting room locations are on our website under Claimant Information

What you need to bring to the consultation

- Photo identification (passport, driving licence, i.d. photo card)
- Utility bill or bank statement (no more than 3 months old) showing the same name and address as that provided to us by your solicitor.
- The doctor will want to know what medication you are taking. Some patients find it easier to either bring the medication or a list of the medication (including dosage).
- If a translator is attending with you, your solicitor will arrange for them to bring I.D. with them.

On the day

- Wear loose clothing so that it is easier for the doctor to carry out a physical examination of the site/s of your pain or injury.
- Arrive at least 15 minutes in advance

Please note: If you are unable to attend your appointment for any reason, please call us at least 24 hours in advance.

If you fail to do this, your solicitor will be charged £250 and they may pass the charge on to you.
